New! Check Your Account Activity – On the Go –
...While more extensive reports are available online at your computer.

Your company now has expanded access to transaction data – both on the go and at the office. And the best part? It's all included with your current Resource Online access and ready for you to use today at no additional cost.

Snapshots on Your Smartphone

When you're out and about and want a quick overview of sales and funding figures, just log on to the new Chase Mobile Checkout app from your smartphone using your Resource Online user name and password. You'll get a quick view of recent activity and graphic views with just a tap.

You can download the free Chase Mobile Checkout app from the iTunes App StoreSM or Google PlayTM on any supported smartphone. Click here for more information on expanding into mobile payments with Chase Mobile Checkout.

More Analytics at the Office

Log on to Resource Online from your computer or laptop, and you'll find that you now have access to a host of new reporting tools to help you analyze your payments data from new angles. Users with administrative rights can continue to modify the amount of reports available to other users in their organization.

For more information on your new Resource Online reporting options, go to the Merchant Support Center for video tutorials, user guides and frequently asked questions.
